PROGRAMS FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

METROWALK: NYC FEDERAL RESERVE TOUR & LUNCH

Enjoy spending the morning at the New York Federal Reserve, the operating arm of the U.S. central banking system. We will have an information session and private tour of the "Fed" in Lower Manhattan.

Located in the heart of the Financial District in a distinctive Italian Renaissance-revival style building, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York boasts the largest depository gold reserve found anywhere in the world containing 7,000 tons of gold. We will tour the facilities with a special guide and even descend into the Gold Vault, five stories below street level.

Following the tour, join former Vice President in the Research and Market Analysis Group at the New York Federal Reserve, Dr. Dorothy Meadow Sobol, for lunch and discussion. Dr. Sobol is currently a professor of International Economics and Emerging Markets at the Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies (SAIS) where she has been teaching since 1998. Don't miss this rare opportunity!
